

The Kelsey Excelsior 3x5 is a desktop clamshell press. A bit smaller than the Excelsior Virginia Woolf used to hand print her own and other authors' texts, her first press still fit on her dining room table. We encourage our students to find a way to continue their printing practice with the skills gained in Printland, at Macalester College in St. Paul, MN.

The Showard press is often used for live print giveaway events, support for social justice projects and issues that matter deeply to our community.

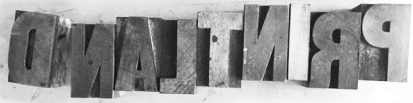

The Vandercook No. 2 Proof Press is our letterpress workhorse. A mid-century titan, it's battleship grey and built like one.

who also built drag racers, funny cars, and heavy-duty tractors for tractor pull events. This press is part of the tradition of spectacle-creating machinery built to last and draw an audience.

The Wepplo Press can print relief or intaglio. Fabricated by George Wepplo,
